

News of the Society World

THE week is to be a particularly brisk one socially, what with the rush of preparation for Christmas, the usual demands of charity at this time of year and the general run of entertaining, and those who are in the gay set, or even nearly connected with it, will be kept on a constant go. Several skating parties have been arranged for tomorrow night, many theater parties are scheduled as well, and numerous supper parties are to fill in the time later.

Miss Richmond and Miss Marguerite Richmond will entertain with a matinee party at the Colonial Thursday afternoon for Miss Alice Wall and Mrs. Lewis A. Jeffs, at which a dozen of the young girls will be guests. Mrs. Mark W. Lillard will entertain the girls of her sewing club Tuesday afternoon, and a number of smaller afternoon affairs are planned.

IT is welcome news to the friends of Captain and Mrs. Harker of Fort Douglas that they and their two attractive children are to remain at Fort Douglas. A wire reached Captain Harker yesterday morning announcing his assignment to the Twentieth, and the people of that regiment, as well as a host of friends in town, have been showering him with congratulations. The Harkers came here with the Fifteenth some four years and more ago, and they have made many warm friends in social and official circles in the city, as well as their many army friends in the two regiments with whom they have been associated.

THE usual Sunday calm has been considerably ruffled in the past few weeks for one or another of the young girls has given a Sunday afternoon tea which included the young people of both sexes and which meant a merry afternoon together. Today Miss Denise Karriek will be the hostess at such an affair at her home on Thirteenth East street, Miss Josephine Campbell being the guest of honor. Later in the afternoon Miss Marie Odell will entertain at a buffet supper at her home for Miss Genevieve Fisher of San Francisco.

It would be difficult for a city much larger than Salt Lake to show a group of young girls, debutantes, sub-debutantes and those a little more advanced, than that seen at the Lee Charles Miller home last Wednesday evening at the vaudeville and dancing party given for their daughter, Miss Bonnie Miller. One might go through the list from the young daughter of the house on and find not one girl who would not have attracted attention anywhere, while there were several who are really famed beauties. Miss Miller wore an exquisite dancing gown of white, veiled in electric blue and trimmed with lace and crystal, while her mother was dressed in a handsome gown of white satin charmeuse with trimmings of lace and pearls. Many of the gowns were among the handsomest seen during the present season. The idea of dividing the dancing men by means of boutonnières for the red and blue to match the lighting system was a novel one, and one which met with general approval. It gave ample opportunity for the tete-a-tete between dances, which is frequently missed by the rush of one dance.

SALT LAKE has always been famed for the good looking girls who are residents of the place. The story was told some years ago of a Salt Lake man, who was spending some time on the coast. He was warm in his admiration of California women and admired especially their dash and style. But he confided to a San Francisco friend that they did not really possess the beauty of the Salt Lake girls. The San Francisco man was indignant, as San Franciscans are wont to be under such circumstances. Just then they saw two particularly striking young women approaching. "Now," said the California man, "look at those two beauties. You'd never see such looking girls in Salt Lake." But before he could finish he was astounded to have his companion rush up with the warmest kind of greeting, for the two beauties were friends and neighbors from Salt Lake.

MAJOR and Mrs. William S. Graves of Fort Douglas entertained about eighty friends, the people of the garrison and some friends from town as well, last evening at a beautifully appointed reception at their quarters, to meet Capt. Charles W. Exton and his bride, who have just arrived at the post after a honeymoon journey covering the past two months. The attractive home was gay with the greetings of friends all evening, and the sweet strains of music furnished by the regimental orchestra floated out to welcome the company. The host and hostess, together with Capt. and Mrs. Exton and Capt. and Mrs. James M. Petty, who leave the regiment today, stood in the parlor to receive their guests, while assisting them through the various rooms were Mrs. De Witt, Miss Ellen Maury and Miss Cartwright. Mrs. H. M. Nelly and Mrs. Crawford presided in the dining room, serving punch and coffee, and here beautiful decorations of deep red roses were used. Mrs. Exton was Miss Rosalie McClellan, daughter of Gen. John McClellan, retired.

Mrs. Jacketta McCune-Green

A MOST delightful affair of yesterday afternoon was the informal tea at which Mrs. Frederick F. Steigmeyer entertained about thirty of her friends, to meet Mrs. William Story, wife of Judge Story, new arrivals in the city. The Steigmeyer home at 916 East Second South street, was beautiful with flowers, and radiant with hospitality during the late hours of the afternoon, and the hostess was assisted in receiving and caring for her guests by Mrs. Mary E. Gilmore, Mrs. N. A. Robertson, Mrs. Will Browne, Mrs. Charles Tyng, Miss Richmond and Miss Marguerite Richmond.

THE card party planned by the members of the new Judge Mercy Hospital league, for Monday afternoon at St. Mary's Cathedral hall, bids fair to be a huge success. The arrangements have all been completed and the ladies in charge of the affair are Mrs. J. C. Hanchett, Mrs. C. A. Quigley, Miss Margaret Gibbons, Mrs. W. F. Jensen, Mrs. Ed. McGurran, Mrs. A. K. Tiersan, Misses Kate Halloran, Mary Holloran, Messdames J. C. Lynch, O. B. Hewitt, M. Cullen, C. M. Bell, Joa. Geoghegan, W. W. Rivers, Bark. Curtis, J. A. De Buzek, Wilson, E. L. Sheets, Hanson, R. C. Hill, Kirk. Mrs. Jas. Hughes, Miss Kate Halloran, Mrs. Thos. Kearns and Mrs. Wm. M. O'Brien will pour. Following is a list of prominent ladies who have taken tables: Messdames W. I. McCormick, J. J. Daly, A. H. S. Bird, C. W. Whitley, L. B. McCormick, J. C. Hanchett, C. A. Quigley, B. O. Meeklenburg, F. J. Westcott, A. H. Ensign, Dr. McEnany, C. N. Butler, Marjorie Mulvey Chamberlain, E. D. Woodruff, Miss Eva Jennings, Mrs. Kinney, Mrs.

R. H. McConaughy. Those not wishing to play will be welcomed to tea.

LOCAL friends of Miss Miriam Nelke, formerly of this city and Provo, but now of San Francisco, will be interested in the fact that she is now an active member of one of the leading clubs of that city, the Papyrus club. An attractive picture of Miss Nelke, as "Kitty Olive" is shown in a recent issue of the San Francisco Chronicle, she having appeared in an entertainment in that part.

ONE of the really important society events of the coming week is the concert of Tuesday night which Colonel Irons is arranging of a society nature as well as being a musical treat, and as all the officers from the post will be out in full dress it will be worth seeing as well as hearing. The colonel is being assisted in his work by a number of local musicians.

ON NEXT Wednesday evening the members of the young ladies' sodality will be the hostesses at a delightful social affair in the form of a card party in Cathedral hall. The affair will be the second in a series of similar social events for the winter season. The committee in charge of the arrangements are, besides the officers of the organization, Miss Margaret Collins, Miss Julia Stephens, Miss Josephine Mooney, Miss Katherine Owens, Miss Margaret Harrington and Miss Clara Meyer.

Among the leading society women who have taken tables are Mrs. Margaret B. Salisbury, Mrs. Thomas Kearns, Mrs. William McCaskell, Mrs. J. C. Lynch, Mrs. William O'Brien, Mrs. Edward McGurran, Mrs. John T. White, Mrs. F. J. Westcott, Mrs. Thomas Marzano, Mrs. James Ivers, Mrs. A. Fred Wey, Mrs. Joseph Geoghegan, Mrs. W. S. McCormick, Mrs. J. E. Gleason, Mrs. A. H. S. Bird, Mrs.

C. A. Quigley, Miss G. Cosgriff, Mrs. M. J. Daily, Mrs. Quinn, Mrs. E. F. Chamberlain, Mrs. R. Morrison, Mrs. J. B. Bisque, Mrs. C. W. Whitley, Mrs. D. A. Gallivan, Miss Kate Halloran, Mrs. W. E. Fife, Mrs. M. A. Hughes, and Mrs. J. J. Harvey.

THE McCune home on North Main street, which is perhaps the most spacious and best adapted for entertaining of any home in the city, is to be thrown open this week for two large affairs, which promise much in the way of pleasure. Mrs. Jacketta McCune Green and two friends, Mrs. Campbell and Miss Denhalter, will entertain at an elaborate dancing party on Wednesday evening and, on Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Naylor will entertain a party of their friends at a similar affair. Mrs. Naylor is the eldest daughter of the McCune family, and is one of the popular young matrons in the Utah club. The McCune home has a very beautiful ballroom on the top floor, with a banquet room adjoining, which makes an ideal place for just such affairs as are planned for the week.

Weddings and Engagements

Colonel and Mrs. Enos A. Wall have issued cards for the marriage of their daughter Alice Agnes to Lieutenant Ned Merrill Green of the Fifteenth United States Infantry. The wedding will be solemnized on Thursday evening, December 19, in St. Mark's cathedral, the ceremony being at 8 o'clock. This will be followed by a reception from 8:30 on at the new home of the Wall family, 411 East South Temple street.

Ellington Pianos

develop greater beauty of tone with use

WHILE quite the contrary is true of most pianos. We are all familiar with the piano that develops a metallic tone after a few years' use.

You don't want that kind. You want one that your children and grandchildren will enjoy, as well as give you pleasure for a lifetime. The children can't practice away it's marvelous beauty of tone because it is the permanent result of careful planning and construction.

When you own an Ellington Piano, you can be sure that even greater beauty of tone will be revealed with use, than that which first appeared to you.

ELLINGTON PIANOS are also made as Player Pianos. The Ellington Manual, a player piano that is all but human, is indeed a triumph of tone and technique. Be sure to examine it.
